

Research Types and Fees

- Individual Research - Fees will not be imposed for researchers doing their own research on the premises. Archival material will be available for use by appointment and set-up in the Research Library. Archivists and volunteers will be available to assist researchers but will not undertake the research on the researcher’s behalf unless specifically contracted to do so. Archival Material is available by appointment only – please see the bookings section on the website for more information.
- Staff Research - An archivist or volunteer will research information requested by a client free of charge for up to 2 hours. Research time that extends beyond 2 hours will be subject to a rate of $15.00 per additional hour. If the client wishes to set a maximum time for research, they must make this clear at the time of the request.

Duplications, Reproductions, and Citations

- Permission to examine the Archives does not include permission to make facsimile reproductions of any manuscript or any excerpt from the documents at any time. It does not give permission to quote, paraphrase or use in any way a letter, memorandum or document written by a person still living without the consent of the author. A written application for audio/visual duplication must be made to the Museum. All quotations from sources within the Archives shall give due reference to the Archives (courtesy of the Strathcona County Museum & Archives or as indicated on the item).
- Archival materials may only be photocopied by the staff for a fee. Do not remove items from files, request assistance for photocopying. If there are authorial or donor restrictions or if the staff believes there is any chance of damage, no photoduplication will be possible.
- Reproductions of archival documents, books, photographs, and audio files required by the Researcher will be done by the staff/volunteer at a cost as noted below.
